Description

Eaglewings

This annual holiday event began 5 years ago with an emphasis on family fun, as well as focusing on raising funds for Make-A-Wish of AZ. What began with just a few small scenes lit up with Christmas lights and trains running in the dark has mushroomed into an elaborate, dramatic and detailed display.

In the front yard, a portable train modular is set up, and dioramas help to add to the interest to the display.

In addition to the "regular" holiday decorations, a small Victorian-era Christmas Village is set up just the right height for small children to enjoy.

The back yard decorations are much more detailed than they were several years ago. Each scene is well-lighted with tiny Christmas lights on the houses, while street lights and store lights are on in all the buildings.

Even the waterfalls and ponds are decked out for the holidays with submerged colorful lights! On the patio area, a European train display is featured, with a cog train climbing up to a train station in the mountains; each building and scene in the dioramas are lit up as well.
